

Ensifentrine for the Treatment of Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease

Stakeholder List

ICER receives input on its reviews from multiple stakeholders, including patients and their families, patient advocacy organizations, clinicians, clinical societies, insurers, and drugmakers. We invite the public to submit recommendations for stakeholders in any of these categories.

The following is a list of organizations from which ICER has requested input, as well as those that have provided unsolicited public comments during the review. Some organizations on the list may appear only because they were invited to provide input, and it should not be assumed that they have responded to ICER's outreach or agreed to participate in this review.

- Alpha-1 Foundation
- Arkansas Department of Human Services
- COPD Foundation
- Global Allergy and Airways Patient Platform
- GSK
- Kaiser Permanente
- Point32Health
- Respiratory Health Association
- Right2Breathe
- US COPD Coalition
- Verona Pharma

We spoke with several additional experts in the preparation of this report. Of them, the following individuals have agreed to be identified as having spoken with ICER:

- Antonio Anzueto, MD, Professor Medicine, Pulmonary/Critical Care Medicine, University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio
- Igor Barjaktarevic, MD, PhD, Associate Professor; Medical Director COPD Program, UCLA Division of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine, David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA
- Kevin Duan, MD, MS, Assistant Professor, Division of Respiratory Medicine, University of British Columbia

- Jerry A. Krishnan, MD, PhD, Professor of Medicine and Public Health and Associate Vice Chancellor for Population Health Sciences, University of Illinois Chicago

- Barry J. Make, MD, Pulmonologist, National Jewish Health; Professor, Pulmonary, Critical Care & Sleep Medicine, University of Colorado Denver

To protect patient confidentiality, ICER does not routinely name individual patients or care partners who provided us with input and feedback.

None of these individuals or organizations is responsible for the final content of ICER's report, and it should not be assumed that they support any part of the report, which is solely the work of the ICER team and its affiliated researchers.
